Ladakh calls

If there is one place where everyone with even the tiniest bits of creative instincts likes to flock, it's Ladakh. And when the recent cloudburst hit the state, then the entire creative community came together to help.

Religare Art and NDTV Lifestyle's Life, Shelter & Food Initiative recently organised a photography exhibition called "SOS Ladakh" at the gallery, which included portraits of the state shot by many famous names, including Neil Nitin Mukesh. When we asked Samar Jodha about his obsession with the place, he replied, "Everytime you go there, you find some thing new. And that's what fascinates me," he said.
